News From Your TOWN HALL

Whether the overflowing septic tanks at the school do spread, or are liable to spread, the germ of polio, an excellent opportunity is being missed if the water conditions there are not remedied now—not next month, next summer or next year, but now.

More and more it is evident that the City needs a City Manager, for some one every day which that officer could take from the worries of the Commissioners and the Mayor.

The City Fathers are appealing officially for you and me to the U. S. Engineers for some relief in the matter of the Hillsboro Canal. "It ain't none of my business" isn't the right attitude for you or me to take about this thing.

Mayor Taylor will appear for the City and the Commission, and a proper resolution will be offered in evidence, all of which is considered important by the men who will hold the hearings.

Local Lodge To Be Presented With New Charter

At the session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at Orlando last week, the new Grand Master, H. P. Dawson, of West Palm Beach, announced that Cliff Councilman, of West Palm Beach lodge No. 88, would be the deputy grand master for the local district. Councilman is an old Glades man, and frequently visits Glades lodge for instruction and direction, and had a big hand in organizing the new lodge here.

Grand Master Dawson has set the evening of May 9th as the date for an official visitation to Glades lodge, at which time he will present the lodge's new permanent charter, which was granted at the Orlando session. Announcement also was made that the annual session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge will be held at Columbus, Ohio, in September, instead of Birmingham, Ala., and the Florida Grand Lodge will be represented by Past Grand Masters L. K. King of Miami and Don Gowan of Tampa.

Reports not turned in by the above date can not be considered for payment under the 1946 conservation program.

Any farmer who planted onions in the fall of 1945 should report such plantings to Mr. J. P. Clelland's office before April 30, 1946.

Pleasing Recital

Outstanding among musical events of the season was the spring recital presented by nine students of Mrs. Elizabeth Wierengo Tuesday night at the Women's Clubhouse. An appreciative audience composed of parents and friends of the small artists attended.

(Missing the program were Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mrs. Norman Starnes, Ronnie Marlowe, Thomas Bradstock, John Thompson and Edna Borchardt. These children have had two months of musical training and were employed in the way they played even the simplest numbers.) (Continued on Page 4)

Appeal Made To Reach Quota For Cancer Drive

With only four more days to reach a quota of $1500, the National Cancer Campaign, which is being sponsored locally by the Business and Professional Women's Club, still is short several hundred dollars, according to Mrs. Imogene Fontaine, chairman.

An appeal is being made for every one to mail their donation to Mrs. Mary Pope, who is acting treasurer, before the deadline of April 28th is reached.

A good response has been received from donations taken nightly at the Everglades theater following a short picture by Spencer Tracy in which a few facts on cancer are given.

In the State of Florida alone in 1945, over 2,240 men, women and children. Early cancer can be cured by X-ray, radium and surgery and this drive is for the purpose of raising funds for further research and treatment.

Will Make Attempt At Dehydrating Local Crop Waste

A score or more of interested persons from the local farms and industrial plants gathered recently at the City Hall for a meeting called by "Hap" Parsons of the Broward Grain and Supply Company, to discuss the farm waste problem, and to take steps to salvage some of these losses by the process of dehydrating and marketing them.

Those who participated in the round table discussion were: Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth, Ogle Continued on page 5

Want Tuberculosis Hospital

Martin, Brevard, Broward and Palm Beach counties have united in a move to secure from the government the Camp Murphy property, to be used as a tuberculosis hospital.

Congressman Dwight Rogers has entered the picture and will make endeavor to get federal funds to build a hospital at that purpose, and thinks he has a good chance for success.

With all the counties having sizable numbers of sufferers of the "white plague," and a place to receive treatment, the provision of such a resort as could be made out of the Camp Murphy, which the movement is decidedly a step forward in the interests of public health.

Bad Fire at Hialeah

Daylight Saving Time Is Adopted For Belle Glade

Property Owners Seek Zoning Changes in Holloway Sections

Following in the foot steps of the East Coast towns, starting on April 28th, Belle Glade will operate under daylight saving time, as used during the war period.

City commissioners debated the question extensively at their meeting before adopting the measure. The only question that barred quick adoption was the fear that it would be detrimental to the farm interests, in being able to get the field laborers out for work.

The new law will be in effect from 2 a. m. April 28 to 2 a. m. September 29, which will set the clocks ahead one hour.

Clarence Carlton, assistant chief of police, appeared before the Commission, asking that two new three way traffic lights be purchased by the city to replace the present ones, which will be of the latest design and will be synchronized so that car drivers can make only one light at a time, which will cut down speeding in the central portion of the city.

The Commission set May 28 as the night when it will receive the farmer and packing house delegation, to consider establishing a central pit for the dumping of packing house waste. It is understood that the State has given the City the right to use the Belcher rock pit for this purpose, as soon as the State road department completes the work on the road improvement work.

At the insistence of a group of women who have homes in the north and school houses section, the State has given the City the right to use the Belcher rock pit for this purpose, as soon as the State road department completes the work on the road improvement work.

New Road Patrolman

The State Highway Department has named a new road patrolman for the west section of the Glades area, transferring Officer Cook from the Ft. Pierce district here. Cook, who is a single man, assumed his duties here on Thursday.

The two patrolmen suggest that drivers be a bit more careful with speeding on the highways, and be sure that their cars are in roadable condition, as both will cut down the numerous accidents that have been occurring through these causes.

For nearly two months the Glades section has had but one patrolman, which has placed double duty on Patrolman W. M. Kaufman, who will gladly welcome his fellow officer on the beat.

David Gets Life Sentence

Johnnie Davis, alias Johnnie Stewart, convict at the state prison farm, who several months ago made an attack with a hoe on one of the guards, was sentenced to life imprisonment at Raiford. Last week Judge Newell gave him 20 years, then the board of prison officers sentenced him to life imprisonment, and handed him the life sentence. A half dozen other negro men and women from Belle Glade, charged with cutting and hauling lumber, were given jail sentences.

Fire Department Has Busy Week With Five Fires

Fire of undetermined origin set Ben Parker's garage, a 1941 Ford, model A pick-up and various pieces of farming equipment early Monday morning. When the fire equipment arrived the main house had just caught, but the firemen soon put the house fire out, but were unable to save the garage or anything stored in it.

The above was one of five fires in the local section last week. The past week there were minor, being a call to the fire of the Mike Murphy drug store Wednesday morning. Continued on page 5

Navy Man Visits Home

Grady Fields, of the Navy, being discharged in 26 months, is spending a short furlough with his Belle Glade friends and with his brother, Hugh Fields, at the Hanesy farm. He will report back to his ship at Brooklyn, and still has two years of his enlistment to serve.

Fields, who is a college graduate, likes the service and feels that boys still in the service are more fortunate than those who have been discharged, for under new regulations, serving men have more added privileges and opportunities than during the war.

Potato Harvesting Now In Progress In The Glades

Cabbage and Tomatoes Upgraded in Market Price, New Onion Developed

The harvest days for the 1945-46 season are approaching an end, as the peak of the harvest is now passed, and future shipments will be on the decline. With all its drawbacks, the farmers will have at least some reason to be happy, for they have brought good money, others on a fair, but the aggregate may reach the high mark of last year.

Potato digging is now in progress, with reports that the yield is only fair, and not of the best quality and size, owing to much frost, despite careful cultivation and spraying thru the growing period. The demand in the markets has taken all the shipping capacity of the Glades crop, and is that at Ft. Myers. The Homestead crop is just maturing. The entire state crop will exceed 100,000 tons of last year's was a record year. As we must feed the needy of foreign lands, government officials suggest that more potatoes be used on the table, so that more wheat may be available for relief shipments.

Cabbage men have had a smile the past week, as the market has picked up. Continued on page 4

Schools Observe Easter

The South Bay elementary school teachers and room mothers are observing Easter egg hunts for the children of the lower grades.

The first and second grades started at 9 a. m. on Monday. The 26-27 room mothers were in the Rader camp shortly after 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. Guy Eoff, of the room mothers, was the first to take the egg hunt. Following the egg hunt, punch and cookies were served to the thirty children present.

The egg hunt of the third and fourth grade was arranged on the school lawn by the teacher, Mrs. Olga Hardy and the room mothers. Mrs. W. C. Allen and Mrs. R. L. Lovell.

Three children tied for first prize and three tied for low prize in the egg hunt. The egg hunt was presented prizes. Jerry Ann Cook, Bobby Lee Willard and J. F. Wilcher were first prize winners, each finding five eggs. Betty Lou Kraus, Jackie Mutchler and Rodney Walker tied for consolation and were each awarded gifts.

Janice Summerlin won first prize in the fourth grade by finding eight eggs. Jane Allen and Frank Campbell won consolation prizes.

Ramie Roots Free To Glades Farmers For Seed Beds

Hon. Nathan Mayo has secured the approval of the Board to give to Glades farmers enough ramie roots from the Prison Farm fields to plant an acre for each of those who wish them, and will agree to plant and care for the seed bed.

If you are not equipped to dig the roots and separate them ready for planting, that will be done for you and a fair charge made for this.

An acre of roots 18 months old will plant from 50 to 80 acres of land and the commissioner hopes that more farmers will become active growers of ramie.

Applications should be filed in writing to Superintendent Granger, so that distribution will be made in the order of application.

Sunbeams Elect Officers

The Sunbeams of the South Bay Baptist church elected officers for the ensuing year at their meeting last week. Joanne Hardy was elected president; Rodney Walters, vice president; Norma Jean Lovell, secretary; Donna Fay Walker, treasurer. Their sponsor is Mrs. H. L. Moore, Jr.

Other members of the Sunbeams are Jackie Mutchler, Shirley Byrd, Gary E. Gerald, Marlowe, Water Leathan, Judith Weathers, Josephine and Earl Martin.

Reaches 75th Birthday

H. L. Pierce, one of the early settlers of Belle Glade, on Tuesday reached his 75th natal day, which he celebrated in a quiet manner. In his early days in Florida he was engaged in extensive real estate deals in Miami and other sections of the state. He brought the first steam tractor into the Glades.

All his life he has been known as a great pedestrian, and even now roams of many miles a day. He is a great believer in the humble carrot as a means of upholding other living performance. He has been very busy himself with a route on which he sells his home made carrot pulp and juice, which he also claims, when dried, makes an excellent substitute for coffee. His side partner, Judge Hubbell, attests to the latter statement.

During the evening a buffet dinner was served to thirty relatives and friends. The honorees were presented with a sterling service for eight, which was the gift of the guests present, and other friends.

Husband Used Butcher Knife To Kill His Wife

A murder and possible suicide case was being investigated by the police in the Rader camp shortly after 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. Guy Eoff, of the room mothers, was the first to take the egg hunt. Following the egg hunt, punch and cookies were served to the thirty children present.

The egg hunt of the third and fourth grade was arranged on the school lawn by the teacher, Mrs. Olga Hardy and the room mothers. Mrs. W. C. Allen and Mrs. R. L. Lovell.

Big Guava Harvest

Okcechoe county farmers are preparing to reap a large and rich harvest of wild guavas from their extensive groves. The fruit is just now beginning to ripen and picking will start within another two weeks time. Many of the farmers have contracted for the fruit to be used in jam and jelly processing firms in Jacksonville, Miami and other places. This crop always gives the farmer some ready pocket money.

New C of C Secretary

The Belle Glade Chapter of Commodore has elected acting clerk, until her election can be approved by the board of directors, and she is Nancy Tedder, who is the secretary for the local chapter of the Florida Conservancy District.

Mrs. Alberta Potter, who has been the secretary for several years past, found that the duties made it impossible for her to continue with the chapter, so her resignation will be presented and accepted at the next board meeting. Mrs. Potter will be placed in her position.

New Species Of Vegetables Announced To The Farmers At Big Field Day Meeting

Celery, Bean and Onion Crossbreeding Develops Superior Vegetables

Florida farmers are not adverse to finding out new things about the farming game, as was shown when over 200 of them, from all over the state, attended the annual Vegetable Field Day at the Experimental Farm last Thursday, sponsored by the station faculty.

With a galaxy of well informed instructors and investigators to provide the program of the day, such a gathering could not help but prove a beneficial success to those attending. Previous days have been outstanding, but this one proved to be an exceptionally informational one.

Gathered under the shade trees of the station, at 10 a. m., Dr. R. V. Allison spoke briefly and introduced County agent, Mr. M. Mounts, who gave a review of the progress in his department. Later in the program, Assistant County Agent H. L. Speer also spoke of the new duties he was assuming in the county farm work.

Dr. Richard Townsend came on the program and discussed celery, and told the story of the work taken to produce a new non-bligh and firm type of celery, which has been in process since 1941, with Dr. R. A. Emerson of the Agricultural Department of Cornell University, as the collaborator, mention of whom was recently made in the columns of The Herald.

The story runs something after this fashion: Back in 1940, the U. S. Department of Agriculture imported a number of celery plants from several foreign countries, and some of these, seven of Turkish origin, came to the Everglades Station for propagation and study. The first experiment showed that the plants were strongly resistant to blight, but the stems were hollow, similar to parsley.

Plants were sent to Cornell, where, during the next three years, Dr. Emerson carried on his experiments and finally developed a type of celery which showed high resistance and a firm structure of plant formation.

Later, 35 plants were sent back to the Glades and all of them scored less blight than the common lines and 18 were as good as sprayed. This new celery indicates that it is real celery, which has been sought here, which will be resistant to early blight and can be grown without the use of costly sprays.

Dr. Townsend, while showing the bean fields and their treatment, announced a new bean, the seed of which will be ready for the seed houses this fall, to be known as the Dixie Belle, a sister to the now famous Florida Belle, which was developed at the local station. This is a round pod bean of the tender green type and will be noted for its resistance and prolific production.

From tests on onions, from the early Grano seeds, a type was propagated and sent to the station for study.

OBSERVATION and Comment

By John M. Gledhill

Well, here I am back again at the newspaper grind, after a vacation of some weeks. My vacation at my home in the Soldier City of St. Cloud. That little city looked mighty attractive, and especially so when I found that my Mary-lane avenue, where my wife looks after the home, the flowers, the fruit, and the ever-famous Dixie Belle, which is recorded as an Associate Past.

Call Me "Doc"

It's getting so that a fellow can't get a job pushing the lawnmower on the sward of the dear old home place or do a stretch in a shirt factory unless he has an M. A.—and if he really wants to travel to enhance he must possess a Ph. D! The funny thing sometimes is that the gentleman at the top of the heap got there after going to work from the fifth grade.

After all, as Lincoln might have put it, the world has a whole lot more "misters" in it than fellows who might rightfully and affectionately be called "Doc."

Says Bees Aid Fruit Farms

Bees are more important as agents in pollination than in the production of honey in the opinion of Mrs. Carrie G. Hunt, of Philadelphia, who stresses this point.

Mrs. Hunt explained: "If the facts were checked it will be found that the production of honey is but a by-product of the bee industry and that the real life work of the honey bee is to pollinate the blossoms of the fruit trees, else they will bear no fruit. Sugar is needed to feed the bees in the winter and early spring because the bee keeper takes away the honey they store up for their own preservation. The bees are so necessary for pollination that many large orchardists keep bees for this purpose and even rent hives of bees and hire the bee keeper so pollination may be assured.

"I just thought this point should have been brought out that the bees do a real job in the production of fruit and are not confined to the production of honey. Everybody eats and needs fruit, but honey is used by a very small percentage of the population. It was a surprise that this point was slighted as the western part of the country is a great fruit producing section and this is why the fruit producers of this section need sugar for the bees and not for the production of honey."

CINEMATIC CHATTER

By Malcolm Miller

The Sunday and Monday offerings at the Everglades theater should prove interesting to all.

This one is "Pride of the Marines," with John Garfield and Eleanor Parker in the leads unrecalling a story of a blinded Marine hero of Guadalcanal who returns to the states very self-conscious over this disability. He meets Eleanor Parker, a very understanding and intelligent girl and she manages to restore his self confidence and, to be sure, she marries the lad in the finish. It is a lively story that everyone can enjoy.

Tuesday-Wednesday brings a western, "Albion Town," starring Randolph Scott, Ann Dvorak, Edgar Buchanan and Rhonda Fleming, who do a fine job with the support of a huge cast of featured players.

Thursday and Friday ushers in Charles Boyer and Lauren Bacall as his leading lady in "Confidential Agent." Miss Be-call is "Baby" to rough and ready Humphrey Bogart. The story is laid in London and deals with the Spanish civil war. During the showing of this story that are some dramatic moments that will leave you hanging on to the edge of your seat.

As an added attraction the management will present on the stage, Charlie, Toby, Dowdy and his Barn Dance, Gang in a melange of mirth, melody and merriment.

These boys recently returned from overseas where they were the featured attraction in the show "Stars and Bars," which

FARM BUREAU

Department under the leadership of Porter R. Taylor will go into action, thru advertising and sales promotion efforts, to move that large supply into consumption thru the usual commercial channels.

This plan has worked successfully in several experimental tests on crops which otherwise would have "gone begging."

RAILROAD FIRST REACHED MIAMI 50 YEARS AGO

Symbolizing a half-century of remarkable progress and development, the above illustration shows the little woodburning locomotive that pulled the first Florida East Coast Railway passenger train into Miami 50 years ago this spring, contrasted with one of the line's modern Diesels.

In the markets, or gone to waste for lack of sufficient market demand.

During the last week of each month the state office of the Florida Farm Bureau at Orlando will be gathering information by telephone from committeemen throughout the state, getting crop forecasts up to two months in advance on watermelons, citrus and each of the commercial vegetables.

At Washington the American Farm Bureau will consolidate our facts with similar information supplied by Farm Bureaus in the other states. When danger signals show up, action will be quick and vigorous and sustained as long as necessary to avert heavy losses to farmers and growers.

This service conflicts with nothing else that is being done, while serving the best interests of all concerned. The housewife may still get something of a bargain; the handling trade and retailers enjoy their legitimate profits on an expanded volume.

ure and program, the hour being somewhat extended to accommodate the artists. Mrs. Abbie Zumpt appeared as a representative of the Cancer Drive committee, and gave an interesting talk on cancer.

The second group of entertainers were Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of West Palm Beach, noted club entertainers. Mrs. Smith gave an introductory talk about music prior to leading the club in singing a number of songs in which Bo Pugh, Ray Whitlock and Ralph Kirk were featured.

Mr. Smith, who is a noted story teller and practicing hypnotist, told a number of amusing stories with Georgia background, that were rich and racy, but not offensive. He then spoke briefly on the practice of hypnotism, which he stated had been taken out of the hands of charlatans and brought into a valuable science, of great value in medicine, surgery and criminal investigation. He put on several demonstrations of hypnotic power but attempted no stunts.

are worn out, inefficient, and can no longer be repaired. The Commission directed the clerk to purchase such lights at a cost of $87.50 each. The new lights, Mr. Taylor stated, were to the Commission that as an emergency health measure, he had purchased materials and had this area sprayed with DDT. The act was approved by the other commissioners.

Operators of training and dusting airplanes have been flying two hours later than the orders were directed that they be notified to observe city ordinances and national aeronautic regulations against low flying.

W. L. Cunningham, loaded with maps and data, appeared before the Commission, asking that the city give aid to the Holloway Company in re-mapping lands in its Third and Belle Glade Garden additions, so that some of it could be rezoned for business purposes, and new streets opened; and also to remove coventured provisions running along the land, on property sold, subject to approval of present land owners.

The city would be asked to release one street back to the Holloway interests, and get two new streets in return. When the necessary land consent is obtained and coventured releases secured, the Commission is ready to act favorably on the proposed changes. The zoning board approval of the changes will be required.

WILL MAKE ATTEMPT
Moore, E. H. Borchardt, T. W. Knight, C. W. McDonald, W. T. Elder, George Hubbell, Sam Berry, Frank J. Wood, Leroy Alexander, Milton Brocken and Dr. Roy Bear.

The main speaker of the evening was E. B. Smoak, of Winter Haven, who is engaged in dehydration plants there and in Ft. Pierce. He was introduced to the audience by "Hap" Parsons. Mr. Smoak told of the various possibilities which could come from the utilization of waste products, and saw no reason but what a profitable business could be established in Belle Glade, to use many of the waste products from the fields and packing houses.

The outcome of the meeting was, that local farmers are to collect a supply of Egyptian wheat and field corn, which will be transported by the Broward Grain Co. and Sam Berry, to the Ft. Pierce plant for experimental dehydration. If the test proves satisfactory, and there can be a profit shown to those participating, then supplies will be trucked to Ft. Pierce for this season's work. Then, by next fall with proper support and financing, a large plant will be erected in Belle Glade for next and following year crops.

The other call was a regular Sunday fire, this time three buildings next to the Okeechobee Migratory Camp (outside the city limits) were destroyed, being too far gone when the local fire truck arrived to do much good other than protect surrounding buildings. The three buildings formerly housed the Patio Deluxe, the Wayside Cleaners and the Wayside Inn. Damage approximately $10,000. This fire started from a grass

50 YEARS AGO THE F. E. C. HELPED FOUND MIAMI

A FREE HISTORY

Send for this interesting illustrated booklet, "The Story of a Pioneer," a brief history of the Florida East Coast Railway and its part in the remarkable development of the East Coast of Florida, including the founding of Miami and West Palm Beach. Just address:

Geo. L. Oliver
General Passenger Agent
Florida East Coast Railway
St. Augustine, Florida

Fifty years ago this spring, in 1896, the Florida East Coast Railway was extended to an obscure little settlement on the Miami River.

Here a townsite was being laid out and streets cleared through the tangled brush when the first train rolled in. On the bargeboat soon rose a luxurious resort hotel, the famous Royal Palm.

Other Florida East Coast trains daily brought new residents, visitors, building material, comforts and conveniences. Thus nourished, and linked with the outside world, the infant settlement grew rapidly.

From this beginning Miami has become, within the brief period of fifty years, one of the most beautiful and populous cities in Florida, now world-renowned as a resort.

residential and industrial center that is still growing.

The entire state has been benefited by the rapid development of Miami and South Florida. This year each of Florida's 67 counties will receive an estimated $90,000 from the tax on house-sitting in this area alone. Many of the hundreds of thousands of travelers, who are annually attracted by Miami, visit and enrich other communities and sections of the state.

This railway that virtually founded Miami still constructively serves the East Coast of Florida today. Diesels have replaced the early wood-burners, but its spirit of pioneering has carried on through the years.

I thought that I had been in most of the wilds of Oseola country, but my fishing companions liked me out through prairie and wood lands to a spot which the devil would have a hard time to locate. But, that fishing was the best ever, as the specks, bream and cats kept up quite busy, and provided provender for a woods cooked repast.

joy when they come in possession of a new automobile. Sometimes that pleasure is short and sweet, especially when the car goes to the bad. Would not for the world intimate anyone who has experienced that bad luck, but soft pedal when you speak to my boss about the matter.

The present school year is fast coming to a wane. But it does not mean a let down on the part of the teachers or pupils for every one is planning, rehearsing or arranging for the customary commencement week events which this year will be somewhat more elaborate than in years past.

The storage yards of the Peavy-Wilson Lumber Co., at Holopaw, begin to present a picture such as existed before the war days. Huge piles of stacked lumber is again to be seen in the yards. During the war the products of the big mill went to the government, and much still goes to that source, but the output is now sufficient to provide some lumber for domestic uses. Another two years will likely see the big plant out of existence after 40 years operation there, and the Florida East Coast line will also disappear when the new Ft. Pierce cut-off is placed in operation.

Standing at the bridge and again at the Avenue E light, and counting cars passing those points, figures would show that the space is one of the heaviest traffic spots in all Florida. Take a ride up to Pahokee or to South Bay, just around seven o'clock, and you will see a myriad of cars moving in both directions. No wonder highways wear out, under the traffic they bear.

That was a most complimentary assemblage which gathered at the Experimental station last Thursday for the vegetable field day event. The specialists of the station staff had words to speak and things to show, that interested every one present from the start to the finish of the long program. Bean and potato men especially were edified and instructed in their line of work and many quick and quirk of the business was explained to them by Dr. Townsend and his aids.

The cattlemen are to have their day in May, and at that time Dr. Kidder will have much to state and present on cattle raising subjects. It is on such days as these, that the dirt farmers learn of the value of the Experimental station work, as carried on by the heads of the departments. This vast farming area is most dependent upon these investigators, and without their educational and investigating work, we would have been years behind in the agricultural program, as it now presents itself.

Well, our school teacher staff, so far as Belle Glade is concerned, can rest easy during their vacation period, for they know that they will again have employment after the opening of the school year in September. They are also praying, hoping and wishing that when the first check comes in the new school year, that the compensation will show a sizeable salary increase. Some of the teachers are planning on attending summer schools to secure added credits to their teacher certificates.

It has been most pleasant about the back office of the Herald the past season, to have among its faithful employees Judge Cornish, who is not only the owner of a New York state weekly newspaper, but a good printer. The "Judge" has had his trailer parked at the Belle Glade hotel grounds, and so had his transportation home all arranged. From this time on, when Clarence calls "Judge" I will know that he means the editorial man, and I had better jump into action.

California citrus men are much concerned over their crops which this year are falling off in size and quantity, and don't like to see their trade area being taken over by Florida growers, but that is just what is taking place. Reports show that the Florida trade is entering the northwest and central western states and Canada, with its superior sized and quality fruit. This new trade field for Florida is going to aid in disposing of thousands of cars of excess fruit in the Florida groves, as well as bring in more millions of dollars to the producers. Prices have been excellent this season and big profits should be shown on books.

From the north limits of Okeechobee to Holopaw the highway winds thru the heart of the Okeechobee and Oseola county prairie cattle lands, for 70 miles, and there are not to exceed a dozen houses to be seen in that entire distance. But there are plenty of cattle to be seen on the ranges, seemingly in pretty good condition.

The trouble with a vacation is that you come back to work about as tired as when you left, and I know that the pocketbook is a bit slimmer than when a fellow departs. But heck, what is a vacation for, if you can't have a good time and spend some money?

That Orlando is a fine city and growing like a weed, is apparent to anyone entering its beautiful precincts. While there are still many service men there the number is greatly reduced from the war days, when the streets were crowded with service boys. Already that city has most everything any modern city should possess, but still something new is always under way. The latest is a new negro settlement just south of the city which the city is to build and supervise.
